INTRODUCTION

Prayer holds a crucial place in Islam.

It is the second pillar and was directly prescribed upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, without any intermediary, above the seven heavens. Establishing a sacred bond between the servant and his Lord, it carries immense importance in the life of a Muslim from a very young age.
It is the duty of parents to teach it to their children and to encourage them to practise it once they reach the age of seven. The prophets — peace be upon them — instilled it within their families, thus emphasising its fundamental role in the lives and practice of the believers.

Allah, the Most High, says about Ismā'īl:

(وَكَانَ يَأْمُرُ أَهْلَهُ بِالصَّلَاةِ وَالزَّكَاةِ وَكَانَ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِ مَرْضِيًّا.) [مريم : 55]

{And he used to enjoin on his people prayer and zakāh and was to his Lord pleasing [i.e., accepted by Him]} [Surah Maryam, verse 55].

And Allah, the Most High, says to His Prophet Muhammad ﷺ:

(وَأْمُرْ أَهْلَكَ بِالصَّلَاةِ وَاصْطَبِرْ عَلَيْهَا.) [طه : 132]

{Enjoin prayer upon your family and be steadfast therein.} [Surah Tā-Hā, verse 132]

Teaching prayer to one's children is therefore among the noblest of tasks, and this guide aims to assist parents in this eminent mission by providing them with tools and resources that are both rigorous and well suited.

May Allah accept the efforts dedicated to the completion of this work

LIKE THE GROWN-UPS

Dear Binti,
Wishing to obey Allah and eager to follow in your mother's footsteps, you have decided to begin performing the prayer.
Al-ḥamdulillāh!
This is a tremendous act that you are about to undertake, BUT before you begin, there are certain things you must absolutely know and understand.
For, as always in Islam, if we want our deeds to be accepted by Allah, they must follow the rules taught to us by our beloved Prophet ﷺ.
So, pay close attention: we are going to talk about things that will be useful to you throughout your entire life, in shā' Allah! Bismillāh!
May Allah grant you success in your learning, Binti.

'Ā'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said:

"Whoever performs an action that is not in accordance with our teachings will have it rejected."

WHY PRAY?

The first question you might ask yourself is:
"Why do we have to pray?"
Know that Allah created you so that you may worship Him and remember Him.
He brought you into this world to test you, to see whether you will follow His commands and avoid His prohibitions, in order to earn Paradise!
Prayer (ṣalāt) is one of the acts of worship that He has made obligatory.
It is a very important act that carries countless benefits and immense rewards for the one who performs it properly and sincerely!
Yes, your prayer must be performed solely for the purpose of pleasing Allah.
That is the ONLY TRUE reason to pray: to obey Allah and to hope for His mercy.

In the Qur'an, Allah, Glorified be He, says:

(الَّذِي خَلَقَ الْمَوْتَ وَالْحَيَاةَ لِيَبْلُوَكُمْ أَيُّكُمْ أَحْسَنُ عَمَلًا.)
[الملك : 2]

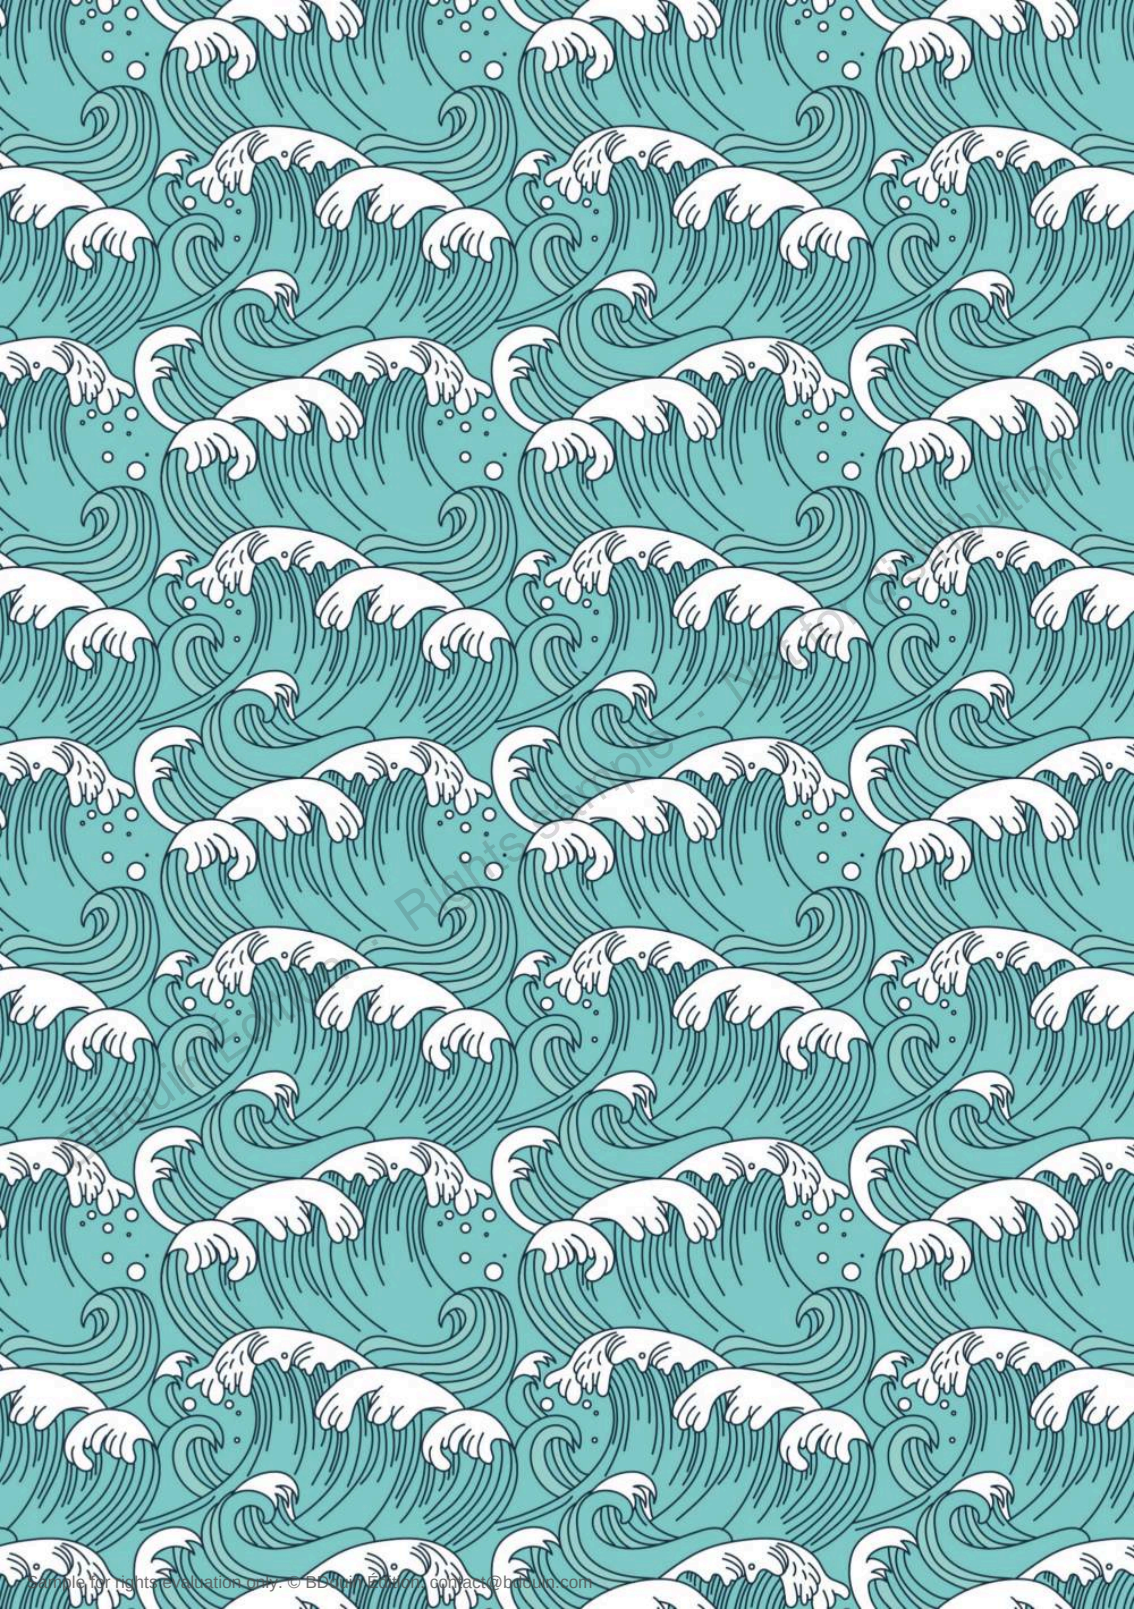

"[He is the One] Who created death and life to test you [and see] which of you is best in deeds."

[Surah Al-Mulk, verse 2]

PURIFYING YOURSELF BEFORE PRAYER

In order to perform certain important acts of worship — such as prayer or the recitation of the Qur'an — you must first purify yourself.
There are three ways to do this, depending on the circumstances:

Minor ablution	Major ablution	Dry ablution
الوضوء	الغسل	التيمم
Al-Wudhu	Al-Ghusl	At Tayammum

And know that even though purification is an obligation, Allah will still reward you for it!

The Prophet ﷺ said:

"When a Muslim, or a believer, performs ablution and washes his face, every sin committed by his eyes will be washed away with the water or with the last drop of water. When he washes his hands, every sin committed by his hands will be washed away with the water or with the last drop of water. When he washes his feet, every sin committed by his feet will be washed away with the water or with the last drop of water, until he emerges purified from all his sins."

(Al-Bukhārī and Muslim)

THE CONDITIONS

For your ablution to be valid, you must:

- Have the intention in your heart to perform it for the sake of purification.
- Use purifying water that you are permitted to use.
- Remove anything that prevents water from reaching your skin.
- Clean your private parts (front and back) beforehand if you have relieved yourself.

Attention:
If something is on your skin — like paint or nail polish — and it prevents the water from reaching the part of your body that must be washed, then you must remove it!

Anas (may Allah be pleased with him) reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw a man on whose foot there was a spot the size of a fingernail that water had not touched. The Prophet ﷺ said to him:

"Go back and perform your ablution properly."

(Abu Dawud and An-Nasa'i)
